PECAN CROP IS A SOURCE OF REVENUE

MORE ATTENTION WILL BE GIVEN TO BUDDING NATIVE TREES IN THIS VICINITY IN THE FUTURE
—LONE GROVE'S PECAN KING.

Many land owners throughout this section of the state who own property along water courses where native pecan trees abound, are gradually following the example set by O. K.
Darden a few years ago, and are having their native trees budded with high-grade paper-shell pecans.

Catarrh a Blood Disease S.S.S. Drives It From Your System

Because Catarrh affects the nose and throat, causing sores in the nostrils, stoppage of air-passages and gathering in the throat, it has been common practice to treat Catarrh by lotions, washes and sprays applied to these parts. This mode of treatment is entirely wrong. It cannot give permanent relief, and it is liable to irritate and aggravate the trouble. Catarrh cannot be trifled with. If allowed to run on it will disense the bronchial tubes, settle on the lungs, the stomach—indeed it is a very serious disease. Don't treat it locally.
The fact that it causes headaches is proof that it is caused by impure and diseased blood. The one treatment that has proved effective in the treatment of Catarrh is S. S. S. thrifty tree, and in a few seasons after it has been properly budded, will begin to bear a crop of superior nuts that are in constant demand, and always bring a big price.

Mr. Darden began only a few years ago with his native trees. He budded a few at first, more as an experiment than anything else, but he soon saw that there was more money in pecans than in any other crop produced here and grafted every suited tree on his lands.

Mr. Darden is rapidly growing to be known as the pecan king of Oklahoma, and his crop this season would stagger the ordinary cotton farmer.
He will probably gather 600 bushels of paper shell pecans, and to those who are familiar with prevailing prices it will be readily seen that he will have a nice addition to his bank account this winter.

Native pecans are finding a ready market in this city and local buyers are taking all that is offered at fair prices. The season is somewhat backward on account of the frosts, but the crop is said to be the big-

GREY HOUND RACE STAGED ON PRAIRIES

'UNCLE SAM' TALIAFERRO ISSUES OPEN CHALLENGE TO ANY GREYHOUND OWNER IN CAR-TER COUNTY.

Did you ever witness a greyhound race? You never did? Well, there will be one staged on the prairie just west of Ardmore some of these days, and the event will be duly announced.

Owners of greyhounds take pride in their fleetness as a race horse owner takes pride in his horses.
When a race among these fleet dogs is arranged, the whole neighborhood turns out to witness it. Sometimes as many as fifty long-nosed, lanky dogs are gathered. There will be as many as twenty owners, every one believing steadfastly in the superiority of his own hound. Mounts are taken, and they scamper off across the prairie. They do not go very far until a jack rabbit is raised. The proud rabbit has the utmost confidence in his own speed and he travels on three legs until he realizes he has a race that will take all his legs—and then generally he loses.
After a silent race for an hour, in which wire fences are crossed, skirts of timber are invaded, the dogs catch the prey. Mr. Rabbit cannot outrun a greyhound. He can get away from the ordinary dog on three legs, but a long, lanky greyhound can pick him up on a straight run and break his bones.

"Uncle Sam" Taliaferro, who lives two and a half miles northeast of Lone Grove, owns some greyhounds.
He believes they are the fastest in the entire county. Reposing such faith in the fleetness of his pack as he does, he has issued a challenge to any owner of fast dogs in the whole county to meet for a race after a rabbit. It is planned to stage a race on the prairies, just west of Ardmore. It will be a sight worth seeing. The greyhound does not make a noise in his chase. It is a silent race, but it is worth the money.
If a greyhound took time to bark like a cur, or doing the act of baying like the pot hounds, owned by J. B. Boone, he would never catch a long-eared jack rabbit.

This challenge of "Uncle Sam" Taliaferro's is to any man in Carter county who thinks he has a fast dog.
When the date of the race is set, Ardmore people will be notified, and some of the Ford owners might get in the running after the try-out has been made by the dogs and the blue ribbon and money awarded.

After reading this over, we are inclined to erase that part which refers to pot hounds, but if Mr. Boone flies a damage suit for slander of his pack, we will retract and call them by some high-sounding name that will cause our friend's chest to swell with pride.

gest in years, and when a heavy frost visits this section to loosen them from the trees, more will be coming to market, and the prices will probably be better than at present.

The pecan business will be given more attention in this section of the state in the future, as it has been demonstrated that pecans beat a cotton crop, with scarcely any expense, aside from gathering them.

SEC. GARRISON OUTLINES MILI- TARY PLANS

SHOWING THE ARMY'S PART IN THE NATIONAL DEFENSE PRO-GRAM TO BE SUBMITTED TO CONGRESS.

Washington, Nov. 7.—An outline of the army's part in the national defense program to be submitted to congress in December by the administration has been made public by Secretary Garrison discussing officially for the first time details of the plan to raise a great Continental or Citizen army to supplement the regular establishment.
In brief, it is proposed to increase the regular army from 108,008 to 141-843 officers and men (changing the term of enlistment from four years with the colors and three years on furlough, to two years with the colors and four years on furlough); to organize a federal citizen army of 400-000 (to be enlisted 133,000 a year for three years); to strengthen the state militia by increased appropriations and closer cooperation; and to spend $20-000,000 a year for four years on coast defenses and $26,000,000 a year for four years in the accumulation of reserve material for use by a force of 500,000 men.

Mr. Garrison says that the framers of the new policy are fully conscious of the possibility of formulating military policies much better in theory, but that "after concentrated consideration of existing legal and other conditions, they think it will be found that almost insuperable objections and difficulties arise in carrying into practical operation suggestions that from the military standpoint might otherwise be very acceptable.

The statement reveals that in the preparation of their plans, war department officials have called into consultation specialists in various lines of private industry.

"It has been proposed," it says, "to make available in time of need the services of those in certain kinds of employment requiring special knowledge and skill, such as railroad men, bridge builders, engineers of all descriptions, etc., and leading men in these lines and professions have been collaborating with the war department in an endeavor to formulate, by legislation or administrative action, an acceptable and useful plan with respect thereto.

"In this connection, and because of the patriotic spirit thus displayed, it seems desirable to say that if those who are the employers of the young men of the country cannot by reason of age or situation in life, give their personal service, they can do that which will be equally useful by encouraging in every way the participation of those in their employ in the plan of national defense. If they would so arrange their business that a certain proportion of those whom they engage could undertake this national service without sacrificing their personal interests, those who did this thing would be acting in the most public-spirited and patriotic manner possible."

The citizen army would be recruited throughout the entire country and organized in geographical divisions. Its members, though enlisted for six year terms, would be required to report for intensive training only for short periods each year for three years and during the remaining three years would be furloughed subject to call to the colors in time of war. In addition to officers who may be developed in the course of its operation, Mr. Garrison proposed to draw officers for this force from men who have served in the national guard or the regular army or who have been trained in private military schools. Individuals or organizations in the existing national guard free to do so, would be permitted to come into the citizen army without change of rank.

For the next fiscal year, when it is proposed to put this new policy into operation, congress will be asked to appropriate $182,717,036; the second year the amount will be $212,815,879; the third $228,315,879, and annually thereafter, if the policy were continued without change, the army budget would be $182,234,559.

The additions to the regular army contemplated are ten regiments of infantry, four regiments of field artillery, fifty-two regiments of coast artillery, fifteen companies of engineers and four aero squadrons, to be brought in half next year and half the following year.

This plan, when completed would place in the Panama Canal Zone, Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines, and Alaska, 1,453 officers and 47,456 enlisted men. In the continental United States, there would be in the regular establishment 2,958 officers and 66,968 men, including eleven and two-thirds regiments of cavalry, twenty-six and two-thirds regiments of infantry, seven regiments of field artillery, 170 companies of coast artillery and about four thousand officers and men in engineer and signal corps.
